Before and After the exam

Before the exam, I was very busy because I had to do revision every day. I couldn't play computer games or have a break.

After the exam, my family and I went to Shenzhen. In the morning, we went to Lo Wu by MTR. Then, we entered the Chinese boundary through the Immigration Department's counter. First of all, my family and I ate a bowl of porridge and drank a cup of orange juice. The food was too salty. In the afternoon, my mother went to a clothes shop to buy socks for me to go to school.

In the evening, we went to a restaurant to have dinner. My father and I ate a bowl of soup noodles with beef and drank a bottle of cola. The noodles were fresh and delicious. My brother and mother ate a bowl of fried rice and my brother drank a bottle of sparkling water. My mother didn't like soft drinks so she just drank a glass of water. My brother said the fried rice was yummy. At midnight, we slept in the hotel.

The next day, we ate dim sum and drank soya milk for breakfast. Then I went to a clothes shop but I didn't buy anything because the clothes were too expensive. In the afternoon, we went to the Science Museum. I saw a robot which could talk. When my brother was playing, a boy took his toys and laughed at him. 'Ha-ha! These toys are mine now,' said the boy in Putonghua. I said, 'You should line up. My brother played with them first!' But he ignored me. His mother saw that and pulled him away.

At night, I saw a claw machine. I took out my purse and I inserted a coin into it. I was very happy because I clawed a doll. My brother clawed a doll too. After a while, my brother and I went to the indoor playground to play.

When my family and I were taking the MTR, my brother fell asleep.

We were happy but tired.
