A Meaningful Gift

I received a meaningful birthday gift from my best friend Emma this year. I like it very much. It was a handmade photo frame, which contains five paper frames. Four of them were decorated with beautiful drawings and stickers. I also placed photos of Emma and me in them.

Emma is considerate because she prepared a small bag of materials for me to decorate the remaining paper frame. I chose one of my favourite photos of us, and put it into the frame. I used some clips to hang the frame on the rope. All the photos record our precious moments.

I hope that as we have more and more photos, this frame will be longer and longer. I wish our friendship will last forever.
