At the Clinic

In the morning, Tom had a stomachache so his dad took him to the clinic in Sha Tin. He was sad. They went there by taxi quickly.

Tom and Dad arrived at the clinic, there were not many people. The nurse asked Tom, 'What is the matter?' Tom answered, 'I have got a stomachache because I ate a lot of ice cream last night.' Tom and his dad waited for a while. Then they saw the doctor. The doctor told Tom to rest in bed for one day and take some medicine.

After that two men carried a heavy box and entered the clinic. When Tom and his dad were leaving the clinic, the men dropped the box onto his dad's foot. 'Arrgh!' cried Tom's dad. He felt painful. Tom was scared.

In the end, Tom called the ambulance immediately. Tom and Dad went to the hospital to see the doctor. Dad's toes were broken. He needed to stay in the hospital for one month.
