An Unforgettable Day

If everyone's school life was tea in a cup, my cup would be filled with all my ups and downs, my smiles and tears.

For me, the most unforgettable day must be the first day of school. I still remember my parents held my hand and asked me to enjoy myself before dropping me at the school entrance. I was excited, yet a bit nervous and frightened.

When I entered the classroom, everyone was talking and laughing loudly. I was shy and that felt like I was an alien who landed on the Earth. I sat down quietly and started daydreaming. Suddenly, a girl patted my shoulders and said, "Hello! I am Rachel. Can we be friends?" I was so touched and agreed immediately. We became good friends and did everything together since then. She made my school life more fruitful.

I am glad to have this cup of fresh, warm tea in my life.
