A Meaningful Gift I Have Received

Many classmates like to share with me what gifts they have received each year. A toy car, an i-Pad, a bicycle or even a pet.

But for me, what I really want is free, precious and invisible. It comes from my fellow classmates and teachers and they are your companions that enriches my school life.

For the past six years, thank you for sharing your knowledge and experience with me. Besides, the learning attitude I learnt from you was also important so I know how to handle my emotions when I fail. I hope to keep learning and developing in the future. This growth is the most meaning gift.
